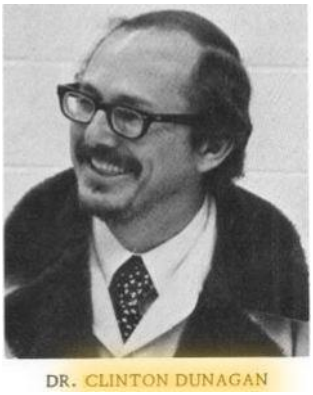
Annual Philosophy Awards

from the

St. Philip's College

Philosophy Faculty

2025 Teaching Excellence Award



DR. CLINTON DUNAGAN

This year we make a special designation as we recognize retired Prof. Clinton Dunagan, Ph.D., former Chair of the Philosophy Department.

He was a member of the faculty at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene, Texas, and he came to St. Philip's College to teach after he retired. He also later taught at Northwest Vista College.

2025 Outstanding Student Award

This year we recognize Joshua Wofford, who has done exceptional academic work in his philosophy courses taught by Dr. Jamie Hardy.

2025 Fulbright Award

We congratulate Dr. Mary Kelaita, Associate Professor of Natural Sciences, who has been named a Fulbright U.S. Scholar to Germany for the academic year 2025-2026. She is conducting research at the Max Planck Institute, which has over 80 research locations throughout Germany.

2025 Amicus Award

Josie C. Sammons was for many years a friend & outstanding backer of the Philosophy Faculty and a constant source of support for our students and their programs. She dedicated her professional life to the St. Philip's College community and will always be remembered and appreciated for her service.

2025 International Education Award

Maria Rivera, Coordinator for Study Abroad at the Alamo Colleges District, where she is responsible for the overall operations of the study abroad process, which creates high-impact learning experiences for our students.

The Philosophy Faculty at St. Philip's College

Visit the Philosophy Awards Website

https://www.philosophyawards.com/

The St. Philip's College Philosophy Faculty for AY 2023-2024: Andrew Hill, J.D. (Loyola) (left); Anthony Givhan, Ph.D. (Michigan State), Marie Feldmeier, Ph.D. (Notre Dame), Vladimer Narsia, LL.M. (Cardiff), M.Th. (Tbilisi State), Fulbright Scholar-in-Residence; and Jamie Hardy, Ph.D. (Utah).